OUR VISION

Healthier futures for the people in our community.

OUR MISSION

We are dedicated to advancing healthcare at the Victoria General Hospital and in our community. We engage our community, health experts, and other stakeholders to identify, support, and fund innovations that enhance patient care and improve the health and well-being of our community.

OUR VALUES

- Have integrity, be transparent
- Build positive team spirit
- Engage and build strong partnerships
- Be empathetic and inclusive
- Pursue knowledge, learning, and continuous improvement
- Embrace and drive change through innovation
- Deliver impact

It often said that life is what happens to us when we are busy making other plans.

In the past year, COVID-19 has done more than disrupt our plans. It has made a profound impact on the mental health of our community, one that will be with us long after we return to our daily activities.

Our mission at The Vic Foundation has never been more important than it is today. We are here to transform the health and well-being of our community, and now more than ever, our community is counting on us.

To build a stronger and healthier community, we need to look beyond our hospital's walls and support the health of our families, friends, and neighbours when and where they need it. Our vision of a healthier community is one in which people living with mental illness have access to the resources they need in order to thrive. It is a place where we empower the safety and independence of seniors to help them enjoy a better quality of life. It is a place where we embrace innovation to prepare for the future and make the breakthroughs of tomorrow a reality. And when hospital stays are necessary, our community hospital is a place where people can heal and recover with compassion, dignity, and the comforts of home.

Over the past year, we have made great strides in our journey to build a healthier community. This report serves as an opportunity to reflect on our achievements over the past 12 months and to look ahead at what is to come.

This year has reminded us all to treasure what is truly important in life: our health, our happiness, and our loved ones. In a year where we have spent so much time apart, our care and concern for each other's well-being has helped us grow closer together more than ever before.

There is so much to be hopeful for as we look ahead to the future. We are deeply grateful for your ongoing support as we embark on another 50 years of advancing healthcare.

Creativity Helps Our Community Cope Through Lockdown

When Terisa paints, she feels like she's meditating. She is focusing on what she is trying to create, deciding what colours to mix on her palette, and thinking of what emotions her painting is trying to evoke in others.

Engaging in a creative activity has proven mental health benefits. It can lessen the symptoms of anxiety and depression, boost a person's self-confidence, and help take a person's mind off of negative thoughts.

The Vic Foundation's new partnership with Artbeat Studio is helping to bring creativity and its mood-enhancing benefits to the homes of people in our community. Participants will receive art kits, instructional videos, and journals featuring art and activities from Artbeat artist residency alumni to help them express themselves and stay creative from home.

Since the global pandemic started, symptoms of anxiety and depression have spiked as communities have weathered isolation and uncertainty. To meet the needs of people in our community, The Vic Foundation wants to ensure individuals can access care when and where they need it: at home, in the community, or in the hospital.

Uyen Pham, Executive Director of Artbeat Studio, hopes that the new initiative helps people distract themselves from anxious thoughts and negative feelings, both of which have been hard to escape during the pandemic.

"Anything where they can express themselves creatively without judgement, and just experience that joy. That is what keeps someone truly well. It gives them purpose."

- Uyen Pham
Executive Director,
Artbeat Studio

The Artbeat home art kits and journals initiative is the first project funded by The Vic Foundation's new Healthy Community Grant Program. The grant program supports initiatives that enrich the health and well-being of those living in our community and served by our community hospital.

Over the years, Terisa has had two solo shows at Artbeat Studio, has worked at the Artbeat Studio store, and has been teaching acrylic painting to seniors. All of this has been made possible through connections at the studio.

"I certainly didn't expect to get what I got [out of Artbeat] at the time," she said. "I was really struggling and I had always practiced art all my life, and thought it would be a good thing for me to work in the studio."

Terisa feels like being a part of Artbeat has significantly boosted her confidence, and that creating art decreases her symptoms of anxiety and helps her to release endorphins.

"I'm just so grateful. The fact that people here are so non-judgmental and so encouraging. A person gets so much compassion because so many people here have been where we are."

Supporting Innovation In Manitoba

A Strategic Partnership with Research Manitoba

At The Vic Foundation, we believe in driving change through innovation. We recognize that in today's world, innovation is more than an ideal – it is a necessity. It is through innovation and collaboration that the dreams and ideas of today become real and sustainable change for the future.

Last fall, we were honoured to announce an inaugural strategic partnership with Research Manitoba to support innovation in Manitoba. This unique partnership gives us the opportunity to support world class researchers in our province, invest in made-in-Manitoba solutions, and make a meaningful contribution to the Manitoba economy.

Through this first-of-its-kind strategic partnership, we invested $335,000 to support three innovative research initiatives: a telepresence robot research project, COVID-19 clinical trials, and a health research competition.

"Our partnership with The Vic Foundation is very exciting for us and the many talented researchers working on this community-based project because it has the potential to advance bioscience innovation in our province and impact families, caregivers, and individuals living with dementia."

Improving Quality of Life For Caregivers and Individuals Living With Dementia

New Telepresence Robot Research Aims To Support Safe and Independent Living

Imagine a beloved family member has just been diagnosed with mild to moderate dementia. While you want to support this individual in living independently, you may be separated by distance or you may be balancing your own career and family. With limited opportunities to visit in person and the fear of a fall ever present, how can you help to support them in living safely and independently while maintaining your own well-being?

Telepresence robots may prove to be a useful tool to support these individuals and assist their caregivers in leading more healthy and balanced lives. These robots facilitate two-way communication between individuals living with dementia and their caregivers, enabling them to interact in real time.

We have partnered with Research Manitoba to invest $180,000 in a new research project from the University of Manitoba's College of Rehabilitation Sciences to explore whether the addition of this technology will improve quality of life for individuals living with dementia and their family caregivers.

The Vic Foundation's investment in the telepresence robot project builds on our proud history of empowering Manitobans to live safely and independently through our Victoria Lifeline community service, while also helping to advance research and technology in Manitoba.

"These funds allowed us to launch high quality clinical trials and capture the attention and confidence of patients and decision-makers. An investment in a successful team will turn a well-founded scientific hypothesis into knowledge, and then knowledge into action that will impact care. With the support of The Vic Foundation and other funders, we were able to finish as strongly as we started."

Joining The Global Fight Against COVID-19

Manitoba Research Investment Impacts Patient Care

Long before COVID-19 reached Canada, it was clear this infectious disease would soon become a major global threat.

The Vic Foundation partnered with Research Manitoba to invest $100,000 in new Manitoba clinical trials related to COVID-19. This investment was part of $1.4 million from various partners to support the work of world-class research teams in Manitoba led by Dr. Ryan Zarychanski, an associate professor, hematologist, and critical care physician at the University of Manitoba and CancerCare Manitoba.

Dr. Zarychanski and his team rapidly developed or deployed eight clinical trials involving six different therapies to contribute to knowledge generation around the world and provide Manitobans with access to cutting-edge therapies.

In two of the trials, the team found that the inexpensive blood-thinning drug heparin decreased mortality and the need for life support as well as improved outcomes in hospitalized COVID-19 patients. This trial is already benefitting Manitobans as there was substantial participation from Winnipeg hospitals.

Health Research Competition Launch

In partnership with Research Manitoba, we launched our first-ever health research competition last fall. Our Research Grant Program funds research excellence in Manitoba to enhance diagnostics, patient care, and treatment management with a focus on adult mental health and elder care. We invested in two new research projects:

Dr. Krista Hardy
University of Manitoba
A decolonizing approach to the incorporation of traditional Indigenous ways of healing into Manitoba's bariatric program

Dr. Corey Mackenzie
University of Manitoba
Opportunities to promote treatment engagement among older adults referred to specialty mental health services

Addressing Social Isolation In Seniors

Due to COVID-19, the best thing we can do for the seniors we love is to keep them safe by keeping our distance. Unfortunately, many seniors were already experiencing social isolation even before the pandemic.

Our Victoria Lifeline staff and volunteers are in the homes of seniors every day and see the devastating effects that social isolation and loneliness have on seniors, which are especially profound during the holidays. To combat social isolation in seniors, The Vic Foundation and Victoria Lifeline launched a new year-round program called Send a Smile to a Senior. This special program lets seniors in our community know they are not alone.

"It was a surprise to receive the package and very much appreciated. The best connection was the handwritten card, these things came from real people who care."

- Karen Kleiman
Fort Garry Rotary Villa resident

The program kicked off by delivering care packages with homemade cards to 450 seniors over the holidays. Not only did the project brighten the season for many local seniors but also supported amazing local businesses, at a time when they need it the most.

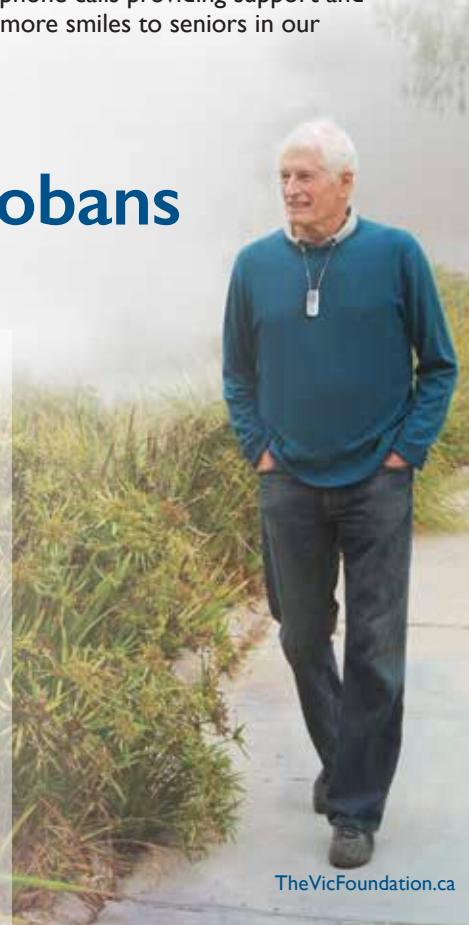

Our next Send A Smile To A Senior initiative, Calls For Comfort, will connect local seniors with high school students for weekly phone calls providing support and friendship. We look forward to sending many more smiles to seniors in our community for years to come.

Victoria Lifeline: Helping Manitobans Live Safe & Independent Lives

Victoria Lifeline installed their very first client on May 18, 1988. He was an 84-year-old gentleman named Murray who immediately felt more confident with a Lifeline help button on his wrist. When interviewed about Lifeline all those years ago, Murray declared, "If anything happened, I know I could reach out and touch someone." Over thirty years later Victoria Lifeline is providing that same peace of mind to thousands of people across the province in more than 350 communities. From the early days of a push-style help button that only worked in the subscriber's home, Victoria Lifeline now offers fall detection technology and GPS enabled mobile help buttons where clients can access emergency assistance wherever they need it. With innovation as a key organizational value, Victoria Lifeline has the most advanced medical alert equipment on the market today.

The goal of the service from the outset was to build a healthier community, which meant supporting the independence and well-being of seniors and people living with chronic medical conditions. As a service provider, Victoria Lifeline employs a holistic approach; we support both the individual and the caregiver, we also assist healthcare professionals in making sure their patients have access to help once they are discharged home. Most importantly, Victoria Lifeline helps keep your friends, neighbours and loved ones safe.

CAREGIVER SUPPORT

If there was an award given out for caregiving, surely Helen Torchia would have received it by now. She has been caring for her sister-in-law Angie for the last 13 years and it has been a journey filled with both rewards and challenges. Victoria Lifeline has been able to be there for Angie when she can't, and the service has been an important resource for Helen as a caregiver.

Since the pandemic hit, no one has been impacted more than older adults. As an essential service, Victoria Lifeline continued to operate, ensuring people had access to help during this very difficult time. As many senior living facilities were in lockdown, Victoria Lifeline was able to be there for their clients in case of an emergency or accidental fall. Our education facilitators also offered virtual consultations and telephone supported installations for clients and their families who preferred that delivery method. As a long-standing community service of the Victoria General Hospital Foundation, all proceeds from Victoria Lifeline are re-invested to advance healthcare for everyone.

"Getting Lifeline, that was a big weight off my shoulders. The Lifeline people were so amazing and kind to me as well, letting me know she was all right. It meant a lot to me that I didn't have to worry about her as much."

Our Journey With COVID-19

Supporting Our Community and Healthcare Heroes When It Matters Most

When the World Health Organization declared the COVID-19 outbreak a global pandemic in March 2020, the days that followed were a time of worry and uncertainty here in our community and around the world.

While the extent to which COVID-19 would impact our lives was still unknown, our healthcare heroes at The Vic and ACCESS Fort Garry were already busy planning and preparing for the need they would face on the frontlines of the pandemic. We knew immediately that our colleagues and our community needed our support urgently, now more than ever. We launched a COVID-19 Critical Response Fund to ensure we would be ready to help address needs as they emerge.

As COVID-19 continues to take its toll on the mental health of our community and our healthcare workers, the need for accessible resources and services to support mental wellness is more urgent than ever before.

Televisions Improve Patient Comfort

Within hours of visitor restrictions being announced, we activated free television service to improve the comfort of patients. This initial activation ultimately led to our investment in a one-year free television program designed to provide patients with recreation, a connection to the world outside of the hospital, as well as respite from their health concerns. The home-like comfort of these televisions help to improve recovery, pain management, and overall well-being.

At the conclusion of the one-year television program, The Vic Foundation invested $260,000 to upgrade all patient televisions at The Vic to support the comfort of patients now and in the future. These 119 new televisions on the 4th and 5th floors continue to be a source of comfort, respite, and relaxation while providing patients with a welcome distraction from their health concerns.

Staff Well-Being and Resiliency

Over the past year, our colleagues at The Vic and ACCESS Fort Garry have faced unprecedented challenges as they work on the frontlines of the pandemic. To improve the well-being of staff, we invested in a number of initiatives to support their mental and physical health during this time. We funded a six-week resiliency project designed to improve morale and help staff decompress. Staff at The Vic accessed health and wellness resources through a dedicated space known as the Zen Den, a calming environment where they were able to relax and find tools to help them cope with the stress of the pandemic. Staff were empowered to practice self-care to help them feel supported and in turn care for and support their patients. To support frontline workers at ACCESS Fort Garry, we invested in special care packages from East India Company to show our gratitude and support them during this difficult time.

In recognition of the fact that staff were missing out on their vacations and were in need of a break, management at The Vic took the team on two virtual vacations to Mexico and Japan. Staff received a series of emails with information about each destination complete with trivia, photos, and videos. The Vic Foundation invested in special treats and prizes to enhance the festivities. These trips were designed to provide a mini break for staff as they cope with the stress of the pandemic.

In recognition of their extraordinary efforts during this time, The Vic Foundation's Board of Directors invited staff at The Vic and ACCESS Fort Garry to enjoy a free coffee or beverage each month courtesy of The Vic Foundation. Foundation Free Coffee Friday has been a meaningful way to acknowledge the incredible work of our healthcare teams and show them how much we care.

iPads Help Patients Stay Connected

In the early days of the pandemic, The Vic Foundation invested in a number of iPads to help patients stay connected while physical distancing and visitor restrictions are in place. These iPads helped make a positive impact in every area of our hospital, including our Mental Health program. Social interaction is an important part of mental health and recovery, and these iPads made it possible for patients to participate in groups and for their families to participate remotely in their care.

One year later, these iPads are still being used to facilitate virtual visits and continue to help patients at The Vic stay in touch with their loved ones.

"It always lifts my mood when I see my family. It's a great treat!"

The Vic and ACCESS Fort Garry: Healthcare Heroes On The Frontlines

The Vic and ACCESS Fort Garry have been on the frontlines of the fight against COVID-19 from the very beginning. Here are just a few of their many contributions:

- ACCESS Fort Garry became one of the first COVID-19 testing sites in Winnipeg.
- When members of our community requiring COVID-19 testing began filling up The Vic's Urgent Care and ACCESS Fort Garry, our expert teams knew they needed a solution. Staff at The Vic and ACCESS Fort Garry jumped to action and designed, implemented, and operated the first drive-through COVID-19 testing site in Winnipeg.
- The Vic's Unit 5 North temporarily became a COVID-19 unit to better meet the needs of patients at The Vic and throughout our healthcare system.
- The Vic introduced rapid testing for Surgery patients the day prior to their procedure.
- The Vic introduced a unique "cubicle" system in Urgent Care to safely accommodate high patient volumes.

"The teamwork, the resilience, the creativity and resourcefulness of our staff have exceeded all reasonable expectations. We have worked together, cried together, and even laughed together in ways we never could have imagined. There are just no words to describe how proud I am to be a member of this team."

Holiday toys brighten the holidays for local families

The pandemic has had a huge economic impact on Manitobans. According to Statistics Canada, Manitoba lost 6,600 jobs in December. The majority of those lost jobs were held by women. Jessica lost her job due to COVID-19, and even though her family owns a small hobby farm, money has been tight this year for her and her six kids.

With everything else those in need had to worry about this year, we wanted to make sure affording holiday gifts wasn't one of them. Jessica's family was one of over 100 local families who received toys for the holidays through The Vic Foundation's partnership with Toys R Us Canada.

"There's been less work, just less everything. It's just been hard to make enough money," said Jessica. "We were just really surprised that we were picked. It was a really bad year for us, a really, really bad year. We were really thankful to get it. We really needed it."

For every $50 donation to The Vic Foundation on Giving Tuesday, we gave a toy to be included in Thrive Community Support Circle's holiday hampers to make this time of year extra special for families like Jessica's. The Vic Foundation invested the funds raised into initiatives that support our community's health and well-being and enhance patient care at The Vic. These holiday toys gave families in our community one less thing to worry about and something to look forward to at the end of a difficult year.

On September 10, more than 250 guests celebrated The Vic Foundation's 5th Annual Miracle Garden Party in support of Mental Health – a sold out event hosted at five exceptional local restaurants. Through this event, we raised over $125,000. The net proceeds will be invested in mental health initiatives at The Vic and in our community.

To accommodate the challenges presented by the COVID-19 pandemic, our Miracle Garden Party grew from one venue to five. With social distancing, safety, and a desire to support our local restaurants in mind, guests gathered at East India Company Pub & Eatery, Frankie's Italian Kitchen & Bar, Max's Restaurant, Nicolino's and Brazen Hall Kitchen & Brewery while connecting virtually.

Guests enjoyed pre-recorded music from Curtis Newton and Garrett & Nazeem, a 50/50 draw, raffle prizes and an exciting live auction featuring an exclusive painting of our Miracle Garden from renowned Manitoba artist Barry A. Burdeny.
